Welcome Message

Polanyi Levitt, Kari
Honorary President, Karl
Polanyi Institute of Political Economy

Park, Jin Do
Chief Director,
Karl Polanyi Institute Asia

It is a great pleasure and honor to welcome you all to the 14th International Karl Polanyi Conference.

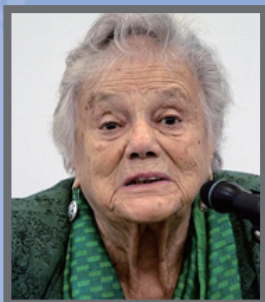

Ten years have passed since the global financial crises began. But the world economy is still not on the path of robust recovery. In 30 years of Neoliberalism, the world is still suffering from extreme inequality. Society is divided and nature is getting into desperately dangerous crises. Immediately after the crises, governments in the US and Europe, which have gone out of their way to supply liquidity and stimulus packages, are once again stuck in the market logic of austerity policy. Is economics still in the illusion of a self-regulated market.

The 14th International Karl Polanyi Conference is to be held for the first time in Asia. It is even more meaningful that candlelight vigils are held in Korea, which impeached the president and created a new government. The candle demonstration of Korea can be referred to one of Polanyi's double movements. The central theme is "Polanyi and the crises of contemporary capitalism". Moreover, we will focus on the "Income-led growth" or slight modification of wage-led growth, which was recently introduced by the Korean government. Also, It is meaningful to discuss whether candle demonstration can be viewed as a double movement, to refine a new idea of basic income, and to study Polanyi's research and social economy in Asia.

I hope that this conference will encourage young participants with diverse backgrounds and the topics will become more realistic to our community. Finally, I believe that the conference will contribute to the world once again experiencing "Great Transformation" to become more ecological and equitable society and a complex society in which democracy is fully achieved.

Thank you.
